Discovery Service™

Interrupting cows
are not the only thing that can get between you and your research ...

... so can texts, emails, video alerts, social media, apps, alerts and on and on and on and on...

How can you get any research done when you've got more disruptions than a stampeding herd of interrupting cows?

Fortunately, your library's discovery service can help you out!

Bounce between computer, laptop, phone, and tablet, so you can pick up your project anywhere, any time.

Use the app to easily pull citations on the go, save them for later, share them, or even open them or download them right from the results list.

Save your research in the cloud with the dashboard!

Visit the library's website for all your research. Download our mobile app.
With our discovery service, your research can overcome any distractions
- from emails to texts to apps - and yes ... even interrupting cows.
